A TOAST TO OUR HERITAGE

At Tivoli Doelen, every cocktail tells a story, woven from the people, pigments, and journeys that have shaped our house and this city over time.

We begin with Rembrandt, whose Night Watch once hung on our very walls. His world was one of texture and contrast, where colour was built layer by layer. In this chapter, you will find cocktails inspired by his palette and technique—Giallorino, spirit-forward with citrus, earth and floral notes, echoing the depth of his pigments; and Red Lakes, bright and expressive, with fruit and a gentle spice that recalls the vibrancy beneath his shadows.

We then step into the Dutch Golden Age, when Amsterdam stood at the crossroads of the world. Ships returned with spices, citrus, sugar, and stories—shaping both trade and taste. These cocktails reflect that richness: Oranje, lively and sparkling, captures the festive spirit of the city; while Merchant's Dream is warmer and more contemplative, with soft sweetness and a refined bitterness that evokes the long journeys and precious cargo of the era.

And finally, The Beatles, who in 1964 chose our hotel for their only visit to the Netherlands. Their presence brought colour, contrast, and a new rhythm to the city. In this collection, White Album plays with layers and variation—fruity, floral, and herbal—just like the music that inspired it. Violet Fields is vibrant and aromatic, where colour becomes flavour in a balance of fruit, flowers, and subtle herbal notes.

To accompany these stories, our food menu pays homage to Dutch tradition. We serve haringhapje, bitterballen, and a selection of local cheeses, alongside genever—the original Dutch spirit. In doing so, we honour one of the promises of our brand: to remain loyal to the local experience, and to offer you a taste of place, memory, and meaning.

REMBRANDT'S LEGACY

Rembrandt van Rijn lived next door to our hotel and used its first floor to entertain aristocrats and sketch his masterpieces. His iconic Night Watch hung on our walls for over 70 years before moving to the Rijksmuseum. In this collection, we draw inspiration not only from the artist, but from his craft. The pigments he chose, the techniques he mastered, and the way he shaped light and shadow into emotion. Each cocktail reflects this approach—layered, expressive, and rich in contrast—just as his paintings continue to reveal depth with every glance.

DUTCH GOLDEN AGE

In the 17th century, Amsterdam stood at the centre of the world. Trade routes stretched across oceans, bringing back spices, citrus, sugar, and stories that shaped the city's prosperity and identity. It was a time of movement, discovery, and celebration. In this collection, we draw inspiration from that era of exchange. Ingredients once carried across seas find their place in these cocktails.

THE BEATLES BEAT

On 5 June 1964, The Beatles stayed at Tivoli Daelen during their only visit to the Netherlands. They occupied suites on the first floor, waved to fans from the balcony, and boarded a canal boat directly from our jetty. The city was electrified—fans filled the streets, climbed walls, and even swam in the canals to catch a glimpse of them. Their original reservation remains on display, marking the moment when timeless heritage met the pulse of a new generation.
